Interpretive Comments

Overall, your observer scores on the Campbell Leadership Index (CLI®) are typical compared to those of other leaders. Most of the ratings you received from your observers fall into the mid-range or below, and your observers gave you a score of 48 on the Overall Index.

In general, you rated yourself in the mid-range, at about the same level as your observers rated you. Overall, your strengths and developmental needs are typical for someone in a leadership position.

Leadership Strengths

Although the natural tendency is to focus on your low scores, it is important to identify and celebrate what you do well. Reflect on your positive qualities and consider how you can use them in the future. In terms of your leadership strengths, your CLI profile suggests that you:

- Have a warm interpersonal style. Because you relate well to others, you are likely to stay in touch with people at all levels of your organization.
- Can rely on a broad network for information and support. Your friendly demeanor helps to create and maintain open communication with others.
- Are seen as working well in ambiguous situations. Furthermore, you listen to reason and are able to change your opinions as facts and situations change.
- Are good at amusing others with witty stories and jokes. Your humor brings a welcome sense of levity to the work setting.
- Are experienced and well-informed. Your experience enables you to offer long-term, big-picture views.

Areas for Improvement

On the other hand, like most leaders, you have areas where you can improve. For example, your CLI profile suggests that you could increase your leadership effectiveness by focusing on the following:

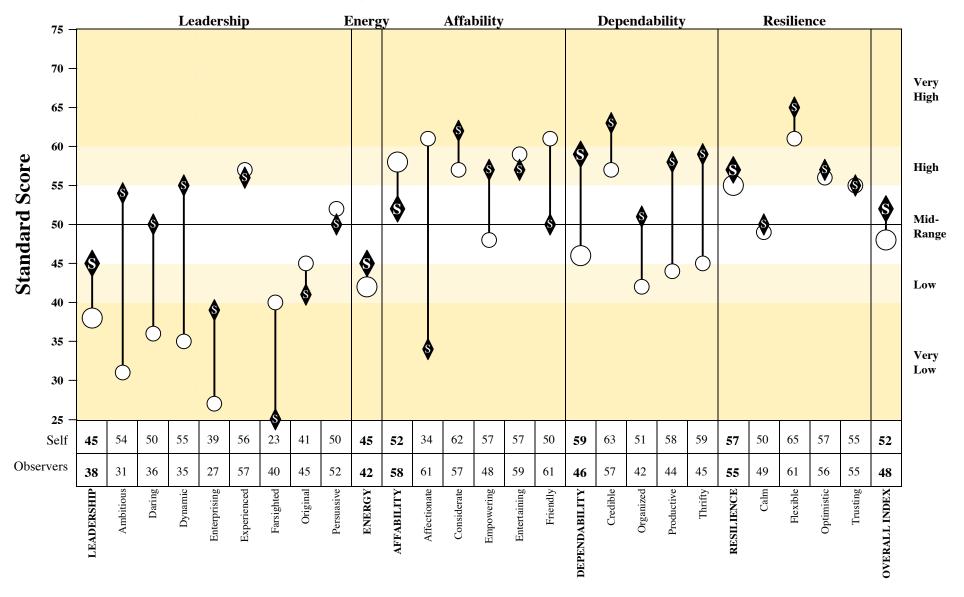

- Meet unexpected challenges with greater confidence and resourcefulness. Ask "what can we learn?" when hurdles appear. Present analyses and solutions rather than problems.
- Set more ambitious goals and pursue them aggressively. Let others know that you are seeking more challenges and responsibility.
 Realize that sometimes a confrontational rather than a cooperative style is the best way to make progress.
- Show enthusiasm and take charge more often. Energetically offer your ideas in meetings. Involve yourself in at least one project that really excites you and share your excitement and enthusiasm with others.

The CLI Development Planning Guide can assist you in identifying your development goals. When identifying your goals, consider areas in which you would like to improve and areas in which you could more fully capitalize on your strengths.

O Observer Average

| Unacknowledged Assets | Confirmed Assets |
|----------------------------------|--|
| Affectionate | Flexible Entertaining Credible Considerate Experienced Optimistic Trusting |
| Confirmed Vulnerabilities | Unacknowledged Vulnerabilities |
| Original Farsighted Enterprising | Thrifty Productive Organized Daring Dynamic Ambitious |

Confirmed Assets are areas in which both you and your observers give you high or very high ratings. They represent strengths recognized by you and your observers -- assets on which you can capitalize.

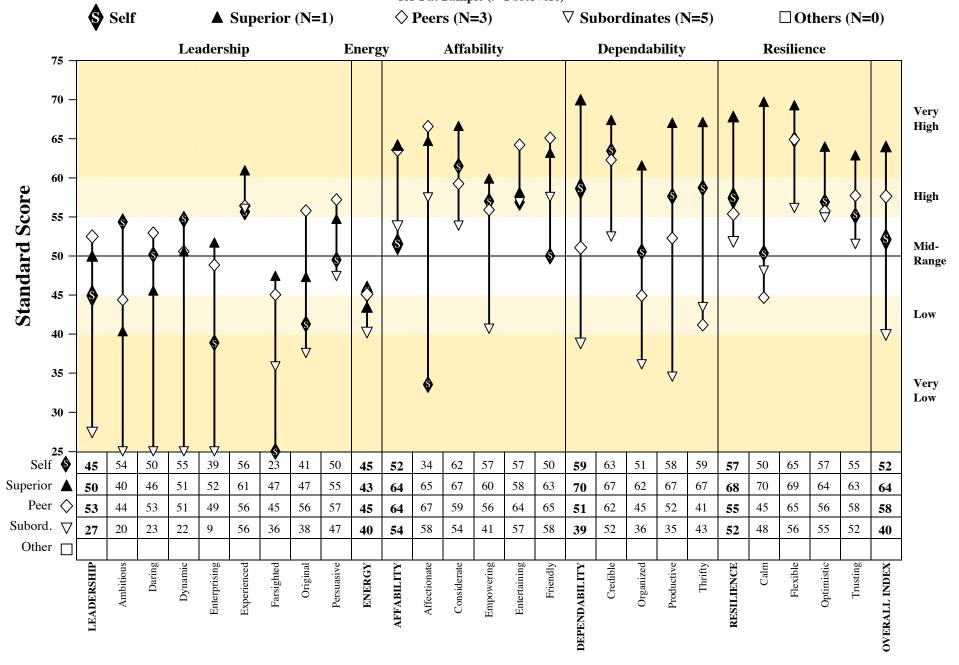

Unacknowledged Assets are areas in which your observers rate you high or very high but you rate yourself below average. Others recognize these strengths, but you do not.

Confirmed Vulnerabilities are attributes rated low by both you and your observers. You agree with your observers that these areas are problematic for your leadership effectiveness.

Unacknowledged Vulnerabilities are areas in which your observers rate you low or very low but you rate yourself above average. These are developmental needs you do not recognize, yet they may represent your greatest opportunities for growth.

Note: Scales with mid-range scores are not listed because they do not fall into any of the four quadrants. The orientation titles are excluded from this page.
